

Synorix Whitepaper

Version 1.2 — April 2026

1. Executive Summary

Synorix is a Bitcoin fork designed to create a faster, more practical, and sustainable digital currency. While preserving Bitcoin's core principles of security and fixed supply, Synorix introduces improvements in speed and efficiency to make it more usable in everyday life.

2. Vision

Bitcoin secured value.

Synorix distributes it.

We believe digital money should not only store value but also circulate efficiently and create real utility for its users.

3. Tokenomics

- Total Supply: 21,000,000 SNRX (fixed and capped)
- Premine: 0% (completely fair launch)
- Distribution:
 - 90% → Miners (through Proof of Work block rewards)
 - 10% → Treasury (funded by network transaction fees and a portion of mining rewards)

Treasury Allocation:

- 40% → Liquidity (providing liquidity on exchanges and supporting price stability)
- 30% → Buyback & Burn (repurchasing and permanently burning SNRX to reduce supply over time)
- 30% → Ecosystem Reward (development, marketing, community initiatives, security audits, and operational expenses)

All Treasury expenditures will be managed by the project team and reported transparently to the community on a regular basis.

4. Halving Mechanism

The block reward will halve every 210,000 blocks, following Bitcoin's original schedule. This ensures a predictable and controlled issuance of new coins.
